

Selected papers of the 2nd International Conference on Robot Warfare

Preface (Imre Makkay)	173
Informatics – Robotics
Imre Makkay : Robotics in the 21st century : goals and some results of science research works at National Defence University	175-184
László Ványa : Excepts from the history of unmanned ground vehicles development in the USA	185-197
Sándor Munk : Information capabilities for robots of the future battlefield	199-208
Tamás Papp : Modernisation possibilities for ground-based air defence planning	209-219
Tibor Buzási : Image processing in the military technology	221-231
István Várhegyi : Hybrid armed forces ahead us : deep look into the mid-term developments of the modern armed forces in the information age	233-243
Zsolt Haig : Network-centric warfare and sensor fusion	245-256
Sándor Vass : Stealth technology deployed on the battlefield	257-269
Miklós Hóka : The tactical Internet : overview of a new type communications system for command and controls	271-282
Zoltán Gácser : Robots for special soldiers	283-291
Tibor Bartha : Non-lethal weapons in peace support operations	293-305