Professor Zoltan Magyary,
Institut Hongrois des Sciences Administratives,
IV, Egyetem tér 1,
Budapest.

Dear Professor Magyary:

The Geneva Research Center is modifying its program to provide for coöperation with groups or institutions in Europe interested in studies of international problems. Mr. Raymond Buell, President of the Foreign Policy Association of the United States, and Professor John B. Whitton, of Princeton University, members of the Committee of the Center, are planning to visit the groups in Europe which may be interested in discussing plans for coöperation. I have suggested to them that they should call upon you during their visit to Budapest.

They will be in Budapest on October 15th, and will stay at Hotel Astoria. I should appreciate your informing them of the most convenient time for a conversation with you.

They hope to make the Geneva Research Center serve as an informal clearing-house for national organizations interested in research studies or information services on international problems. The Center will collaborate in the preparation of the International Studies Conference. Mr. Buell and Mr. Whitton will greatly appreciate having an opportunity to discuss their plans with you.

I remain

Very sincerely yours,
